ANYTHING TO PLEASE A LADY

Manifold Troubles of a Militia Colonel Who Aimed to Please All He Knew.

Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope, when staying at Walmer castle in 1804, quite unwittingly accomplished the feat of changing the uniform of a regiment of the county militia. The anecdote, which illustrates a curious streak of vanity in old-time army officers, appears in an account of Lady Stanhope's life by Mr. Frank Hamel.

"Somebody asked me before a great many officers what I thought of them," said Lady Stanhope, "and I said that they looked like so many tinned harlequins. One day, soon after, I was riding through Walmer village, when who should pop out upon me but the colonel, dressed in entirely new regimentals, with different facings, more like those of a regiment of the line.

"Pray pardon me, Lady Hester," he began. So I stopped, and he addressed me. 'Pray pardon me,' said the colonel, 'but I wish to know if you approve of our new uniform.' Of course I made him turn about and I inspected him round and round—pointed with my whip as I sat on horseback, first here and there—told him the waist was too short and wanted half a button more—the collar was too high, and so on. And in a short time the whole regiment turned out with new clothes."—Youth's Companion.

GOUGED

Mr. Newrich—What! A thousand dollars for that little picture?
Dealer—But that's an oil painting, sir, by—

Mr. Newrich—Gee! The oil trust is certainly handing it to us all, ain't it?

FOR THE HIGHBROWS.

"William, you mustn't sit on the porch in your shirt sleeves any more."

"Why not, my dear?"
"Those people who moved in next door last week play only classical records on their phonograph and we mustn't let them think we are low-brows."—Detroit Free Press.

THE NEEDFUL WORD.

"Georgie, dear, what did papa say when he hit his finger with the hammer?"

"I can't tell you, mamma—it was so naughty."

"Tell me, quick—I've just hit mine."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DIAMONDS AND POTATOES.

If diamonds were as plentiful as dandelions are at this season of the year most of us would prefer to wear new Irish potatoes as ornaments. It is what we can't get that makes a thing precious in our sight.—Alexandria Times-Tribune.

DECISION READY-MADE.

"He said he could not decide whether to propose to the widow or her daughter. What did he do about it?"

"Oh, the widow decided for him."

ACCOUNTED FOR.

"Great Scott, but you are pessimistic to-day. What makes you such a croaker?"
"Maybe it's because I have a frog in my throat."

NO JOKE.

"You have ears," observed the man in my flat have megaphones turned the Fool.

EXPLANATION.

"Jee—Gidget, did my wife just call me a parrot?"
"No, sir. That's the parrot you wear a-hollerin'—Judge."

A Splendid Tonic.

Corn, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore of this place, says: "I was so weak I could hardly walk, I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women. It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.

PLEASE REFRAIN!

He (at piano)—Don't you think this a beautiful melody.

She—Yes. I consider it quite a rain.

GOT THE HABIT.

"She married for money."
"Well?"
"Now she's divorcing him for all time."—Detroit Free Press.

THE BUSY BOY.

"Doesn't that office boy's incessant gum chewing get on your nerves?"
"No; when he's chewing gum he can't whistle."

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism, and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for testimonials from this and other states. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2223 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo. Send by druggists. Advertisement.

The Busy Police.

"Gent uptown telephones for an officer at once. Burglar in the house."
"Let me see," said the captain reflectively. "I've got four men out censoring plays, two inspecting the gowns at a society function, and two more supervising a tango tea. Tell him I can send him an officer in about two hours."

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic is equally valuable as a General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININE and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

Egypt Mother of Literature. Egypt was the mother of literature, and the "scribe" could attain to greatness second only to the king. Novels, poems, and history have been deciphered on the imperishable monuments of granite and in remains of papyrus, together with lists of the authors.

To get the genuine, call for full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Cures a Cold in One Day, Stops cough and headache, and works off cold. 25c.

Discouraging. Her admirer swallowed hard, pulled at his collar, and finally made up his mind. "Lillian," he said desperately, "let's get married!" Lillian's bored expression vanished. "All right," she agreed; "but who can you marry?"—Judge.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well-known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with "the right sentiment," and "Wine and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Write to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa. Advertisement.

ONLY THING HE COULD DO

Chinese Artist Got Even With Those Who Employed Him and Failed to Pay Bill.

The man who orders goods and then refuses to accept them is a trial to shopkeepers and manufacturers in all lands; a novel way of serving such delinquents is described in a curious little anecdote told in "The Memoirs of William Hickey."

There was a Chinaman who took excellent likenesses in clay, which he afterward colored, and they were altogether well executed. To this man's shop Pott and I went to see his performances. We found Mr. Carnegie, surgeon of the ship Nottingham, sitting for his portrait, and complaining violently of the extremely ugly phiz the artist was making. After he had repeated this several times, the man laid down his tools, and looking significantly at Carnegie, he said, "Hi, you handsome face no have got how can make?" and turning to Pott, he continued, "Here can make handsome face, for too muchee hands. Some face have got." Carnegie was offended at both observations, and declared he would not pay for or take the model away.

He kept his word, and the next time we called at the shop we found the image of Mr. Carnegie tucked up, hanging by a rope round the neck to a beam with several others. Inquiring the meaning of that, the Chinaman, with much anger, answered, "All those have too muchee grand ladrones, give me too much trouble, make handsome face, no pay, no take, so mustee hang up."—Youth's Companion.

WELL! WELL!

Mrs. Brown—Does she believe in divorces?

Mrs. Town—Why, I should say. She hires a divorce lawyer by the year.

SURE.

"What are the most perishable, most fleeting and most evanescent things in the world?" asked the married man.

"I don't know," replied the single man. "What are they?"

"A pair of boy's shoes," replied the married man.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

DIFFERENT PROPOSITION.

"Are you going to rusticate this summer, Mrs. Comeup?"

"No; that place, from all the people I hear of going there, is getting too common. I guess we'll just rest on the farm."

FINESSE.

"What did you tell your wife when you got home from the club last night?"

"I told her she was the sweetest woman in the world."

PLENTY LIKE HIM.

"I have a high aim in life, but I never seem to land anything," whined the failure.

"That's because you use blank cartridges," replied the success.

THE TROUBLE.

"Are you afraid you will have trouble in getting a new cook?"

"I'm sure of it. Our last one refused to give us a recommendation."

LOST PRECAUTION.

"Your suit, my dear, isn't seasonable."

"That's odd when I got a pepper-and-salt one, too."

THE VEHICLE.

"Do you ever dream you are traveling?"

"Yes, and it is generally on a night mare."
